What's the point?

Every day, teachers and headmasters use innovative and at the same time simple methods to meet the manifold challenges in their schools. We have visited exactly these teachers and headmasters in order to learn from them and to make their approaches and methods available to other teachers and headmasters.

That's how we do it:

1. Structured collection of good practice examples

- ▶ on organizational level
- ▶ on educational level

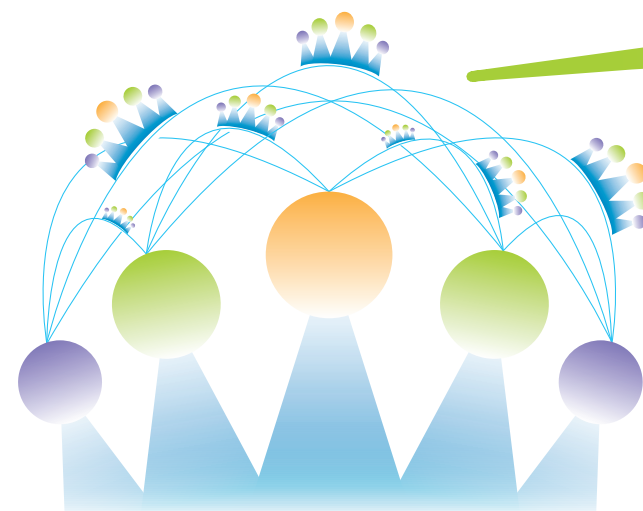

2. Analysing methods and concepts

- ▶ What makes good practice?
- ▶ How can it be transferred to other contexts?

3. Testing and validating the methods and concepts so that they can be implemented immediately

4. Providing the methods

- ▶ Free download from the method database

Our products for teachers and headmasters

▶ Guidebook for Schools

Be inspired by innovative and proven measures and concepts for school development.

▶ Methods Database

Find the right activity or approach for your everyday teaching life in our online database.

▶ Self-Assessment Questionnaire for Pedagogues

Discover your strengths and your fields of development - and find suitable methods.

▶ Training materials for teachers

Expand your skills and take part in our interactive e-learning seminars or face-to-face training courses.

Our goals

We collect proven methods that:

and can be used in the following areas:

- ▶ Classroom Management
- ▶ Teaching/Learning Strategies
- ▶ Performance Assessment
- ▶ School Culture
- ▶ Leadership
- ▶ Diversity Management

We want to initiate and support a lively and inspiring exchange about good practice and its feasibility.
