

Communication

Communication is an important social skill and the basis for successful relationships in private and professional life.

Please take some time to think about what communication means to you, and what you are doing in your classes to promote the communication of your learners.

1) How much do the following statements apply to you? Mark the most appropriate answer per statement.

1. I openly, kindly and appreciatively approach my learners and ensure positive communication.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

2. In my lessons, I keep creating settings that allow learners to train and expand their communication.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

3. I incorporate feedback sequences into my lessons to learn what my learners have understood and what I need to practice with them again.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

4. In my lessons, I make sure that the basic rules of communication are followed and I reinforce them if disregarded.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

5. I openly, kindly and appreciatively approach my colleagues and ensure positive communication.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

6. In my lessons, one of my aims is that nobody is shamed at any time.

I totally agree I rather agree I partly agree I rather disagree I totally disagree

2) Insert the corresponding points in the column to the right of the statements and calculate the sum in the last line (total).

4 points I totally agree	3 points I rather agree	2 points I partly agree	1 point I rather disagree	0 points I totally disagree
